What not just list my items on ebay myself?

This is true, you could and should do that. But if you value your time as much as your Collection you should be able to spend more of your time curating that collection instead of responding to messages and offers at 30% of your asking price and dealing with shipping and packing etc. The biggest advantage is let us do the dirty work.

Any other reasons?

Ya. People are weird. Don't miss out on a sale just cause someone dont like you. Your consignment is your business Private consignment is 100% an option.

How will I know when my things are ready to sell?

Once your items are received you will get an email to confirm the plan. Once the plan is confirmed, we will begin the marketing and sales of your items! The Marketing plan will vary by lot and person and plan
